Mediums Throughout History

Over the last centuries many gifted and courageous scientists and psychics have labored to help us understand parapsychology as it relates to spirit communication. Information transmitted from the other side tells us that the consequences of the afterlife are enormous. Those who staked their reputation for these discoveries and truths deserve an important place in history so that what they discovered will not be ignored with the passage of time. One such person is Emanuel Swedenborg. Here is a brief outline of his accomplishments.

Emanuel Swedenborg (1688-1772)

Emanuel Swedenborg was, truly, one of Europe's great minds; and it is to this that we can attribute the success of his mission as a teacher and philosopher of the Spirit. At that time, Spirit needed a vehicle to help lay the groundwork for what was to follow. Spirit needed a channel who would be respected amongst the world's great minds. Spirit needed a vehicle through whom they could open the eyes of men and women to the realities of spiritual communion and communication, without creating a cultural or theological shock.

Swedenborg's psychic faculties were quite evident as a child; but, as adolescence approached, they were put aside and room was made for more practical pursuits. As time passed on, however, the unfoldment of his inevitable mission as a forerunner to Modern Spiritualism could not be camouflaged by more mundane activities. The philosopher, Kant, investigated and found quite genuine Swedenborg's vision of a raging fire in Stockholm while he, himself (Swedenborg), was in Gothenburg, a city some 300 miles away. To this day, this clairvoyant (seeing with the mind's eye) vision is considered to be Swedenborg's most amazing psychic experience.

In April, 1744, Swedenborg had his first real illumination and intercourse with the Spirit world. In the preface to his Arcaena Celestia, Swedenborg writes:

"Of the Lord's Divine mercy it has been granted me now for several years, to be constantly and uninterruptedly in company with spirits and angels, hearing them converse with each other, and conversing with them. Hence, it has been permitted me to hear and see stupendous things in the other life which has never before come to the knowledge of any man, nor entered into his imagination. I have been instructed concerning different kinds of spirits and the state of souls after death; concerning Hell, or the lamentable state of the unfaithful; concerning Heaven, or the most happy state of the faithful, and particularly concerning the doctrines or faith which is throughout Heaven."

Throughout his adult life, Swedenborg was in daily communication with the Spirit world and received much instruction and revelation concerning life after death. We can summarize the mediumistic teachings of Swedenborg as follows:

The Spirit world is in a number of concentric spheres, each with its own density and inhabitants. Life in Spirit is similar to that on the Earth plane, with houses, churches, schools, etc.

The process of death is aided by Angels (good spirits); everyone rests for a few days after death and then regains full consciousness.

The process of death changes nothing of an internal nature.

There is no such thing as eternal punishment. Those who find themselves in Hell after death can work their way towards something higher.

Marriage is a form of spiritual union which is continued in the Spirit world. It takes the union of a man and a woman to make a complete human unit.

Those who die old or diseased regain their youth and health in the Spirit world.

We can summarize Swedenborg's contributions to the cause of Spiritualism as follows:

He was the first to present a modern cosmological description of the various planes of spirit.

Through his mediumship the world was given the first modern catechism of Spiritualism.

Because of his social standing, integrity, and education, he was able to bring these varied spirit teachings to a great number of Europe's savants as well as to the general populace; therefore, he was a great channel for the dispensation of spirit truth during a period when such teachings were unheard of.

The world should be eternally grateful for the work brought forth through Emanuel Swedenborg.

Ernon, Rai of Suern

The coming of Moses was prophesied 13,000 years ago by Ernon, Rai of Suern, a Messenger of God at the time of Atlantis. His subjects, the Suernis, rebelled against His discipline, and Ernon warned that they would have to wait some 90 centuries for their next Messenger, "him who shall be called Moses." The Suernis reincarnated as the Israelites, among the seed of Abraham.

Two Traveling Angels

Two traveling angels stopped to spend the night in the home of a wealthy family. The family was rude and refused to let the angels stay in the mansion's guest room. Instead, the angels were given a small space in the cold basement. As they made their bed on the hard floor, the older angel saw a hole in the wall and repaired it. When the younger angel asked why, the older angel replied, "Things aren't always what they seem."

The next night, the pair came to rest at the house of a very poor, but very hospitable farmer and his wife. After sharing what little food they had, the couple let the angels sleep in their bed where they could have a good night's rest. When the sun came up the next morning, the angels found the farmer and his wife in tears. Their only cow, whose milk had been their sole income, lay dead in the field. The younger angel was infuriated and asked the older angel, "How could you have let this happen?" "The first man had everything, yet you helped him", she accused. "The second family had little but was willing to share everything, and you let the cow die." "Things aren't always what they seem," the older angel replied.

"When we stayed in the basement of the mansion, I noticed there was gold stored in that hole in the wall. Since the owner was so obsessed with greed and unwilling to share his good fortune, I sealed the wall so he wouldn't find it." "Then last night as we slept in the farmers bed, the angel of death came for his wife. I gave him the cow instead." "Things aren't always what they seem."

Sometimes that is exactly what happens when things don't turn out the way they should. If you have faith, you just need to trust that every outcome is always to your advantage. You just might not know it until sometime later.

HELEN DUNCAN - Medium Martyr

Helen Duncan was Born 25th November 1897. Passed to spirit 6th December 1956.

Spiritualists are no strangers to scorn, skepticism and stupidity. We face these regularly and deal with them appropriately. But few know that one of our most gifted Mediums was charged with conspiracy and actually imprisoned for her special psychic gifts of proving survival after death.

This unsung heroine was one Helen Duncan, a simple Scottish housewife, who was forced to serve time in London's notorious Victorian Holloway women's prison for the appalling "crime" of holding physical phenomena séance's - many months which took a great toll on her health and contributed to her own premature earthly demise.

Helen was born in Callander, a small Scottish town on the 25th of November 1897, the daughter of a master cabinet maker. Her family was far from rich. Like many of her fellow Celtic lassies she struggled to earn a living even after her marriage at the age of 20. Her husband, Henry, another cabinet maker, had been injured during WW1. She had 12 pregnancies, but only six children survived. To sustain this large family and a disabled husband she worked in the local bleach factory by day and her Spiritual work and domestic duties by night.

The small amount of cash she made from her sittings, mostly token donations from friends and neighbors existing in a similar poverty to herself, would often discreetly go to their local doctor to pay for those patients who were destitute. This was in the time before Britain's National Health Service concept of free medicine for all had been introduced.

But her skill lay in Mediumship of a particular kind, that rare psychic gift of being a vehicle for physical phenomena whilst in trance state. A precious gift that brought comfort to thousands but one which was eventually to cost her earthly life.

By the 1930's and 1940's she was traveling the length of wartime Britain giving regular séance's in hundreds of Spiritualist churches and home circles. The evidence that flowed from these physical phenomena séance's was astonishing. 'Dead' loved ones appeared in physical form, spoke to and touched their earthly relatives and in this way brought both proof of survival and much comfort to thousands of traumatized and grieving wartime families.

One such sitting was attended by a man named Vincent Woodcock, who had brought his sister in law for an evening's demonstration. Those 60 minutes changed both their lives.

Vincent gave evidence in London's premier Old Bailey court room that the medium Helen Duncan slipped into trance and began producing the much scoffed 'ectoplasm'. Then his 'dead' wife materialized from this ectoplasmic matter and asked both Vincent and his sister in law to stand up.

The materialized spirit then removed her wedding ring and placed it on her sister's wedding finger, adding "It is my wish that this takes place for the sake of my little girl".

A year later the couple were married and returned for a further séance during which the dead woman appeared once more to give her renewed blessings to the happy couple.

But this touching human story, along with other similar unsolicited and genuine testimonials to her remarkable gifts, were ignored by the law courts for Helen Duncan was destined to 'go down' to appease an establishment terrified that she might accurately discern the date of the D-Day Normandy Landings.

Business Community

I knocked at heaven's door this morning, God asked me... My child! what can I do for you? And I said, Father, please protect and bless the person reading this message.... God smiled and answered... Request granted.

Lord,

May the warm winds of heaven blow softly on our homes,
Let your Spirit bless all who enter there,
May our shoes make happy tracks in many snows,
And may the rainbow always touch our shoulders.
